ABOUT ME

Consultant Analyst with experience in Celonis, SQL, Python, Spring Boot, databases, and web development using Angular and Node.js. I stand out for my strong motivation and ability to learn quickly, working efficiently both as part of a team and independently. I have solid technical knowledge, great adaptability to new technologies, and excellent problem-solving skills. I am committed to developing high-quality technology solutions and actively contributing to progress in my professional field.

EXPERIENCE

2025 - Present MADRID, SPAIN	Inetum - Consultant Analyst In this role, I have specialized in process optimization and analytics through Celonis (using the transition from EMS to Process Intelligence Platform / PIG, Studio, PQL, and PyCelonis), complemented by SQL and Python. My work focuses on extracting, transforming, and modeling data to identify inefficiencies, bottlenecks, and automation opportunities in key business processes. By creating advanced dashboards and quantitative analyses, I turn complex data into actionable insights that drive operational efficiency and strategic decision-making.
2023 - 2025 MADRID, SPAIN	Getronics - Full Stack Developer During this period, my career covered two key areas: software development and maintenance with Spring Boot, Angular, and Node.js, and process optimization through Celonis (EMS / Process Intelligence Platform, Studio, PQL, and PyCelonis), together with SQL and Python. This combined experience has provided me with a very well-rounded technical profile, enabling effective teamwork and rapid adaptation to each project's needs.
